This year, Exide Technologies has chosen to send you warm wishes in a special way: through a gesture of solidarity. This gift will help support 18.800 children by providing them with pens and notebooks, giving them the tools they need to continue their education even in emergency situations.

Around the world, 251 million children have no access to school due to poverty, political instability, conflict, and climate change. UNICEF operates in many countries affected by war and poverty, such as Ukraine, distributing school kits with pens and notebooks to help girls and boys continue their studies.

This gift donated by Exide Technologies will make a difference in giving children a chance to have a better future.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
